

History
Autumn Term
Year 8
CONTEXT: We have been looking at the differences between the Catholic and new Protestant ideas that appeared across Europe in the 14 th and 15 th Century. One reason for the spread of these ideas was the invention of the printing press. This made it relatively cheap and easy to produce leaflets and books arguing for and against the two sets of religious beliefs.
OBJECTIVES: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• To compare and contrast the main beliefs and rituals within the Protestant and Catholic Church.</li><li>• To reinforce understanding of how to write persuasively.</li></ul>
ASSESSMENT: This piece of work will be marked by the class teacher.
TASK: Please see attached sheet.

Religious Propaganda Pamphlets

Your task:

To produce a religious propaganda pamphlet supporting either the Catholic Church or the new Protestant one.

1. Decide which side you are going to support.
2. Using your exercise book and the boxes below, write 50-100 words on
  - a) Why the Church you have chosen is so good.
  - b) What is wrong with the other Church and the way it worships God.
3. Plan out a draft layout for your front cover. This should include a title, picture and slogan.
4. Get your work checked and copied into neat on a sheet of A4 paper.

Arguments for the Catholics.

- It is the true Christian faith and always has been.
- The Pope is God's representative on Earth.
- If your King or Queen leaves the Catholic Church, God will no longer expect you to support them.
- If you come to a Catholic church, the Priest can forgive you for your sins.
- Catholic Churches are fine and beautiful.
- You get to listen to the Bible in its language, Latin.

Arguments for the Protestants.

- Protestant Churches let you have a one to one relationship with God.
- No money is wasted on fancy pictures and decoration.
- Protestant Vicars teach you about the Bible in a language you understand, not in Latin.
- Everyone is welcome at the Alter, not just the Priest.
- Protestant Vicars are allowed to live normal lives and get married.
